"The re-election of Senator Dodd is a matter of national concern transcending party lines and state boundaries"

-NATIONAL NON-PARTISAN COMMITTEE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF SENATOR DODD

THE citizens listed below—Democrats, Republicans, and Independents—have come together in a national non-partisan committee because they believe that the re-election of Senator Dodd is a matter of national concern transcending party lines and state boundaries.

The remarkably broad support which Senator Dodd commands stems essentially from the fact that he has been a crusader for freedom and decency and respect for law both at home and in world affairs.

During his six years in the Senate, Dodd has been one of its most independent and constructive spokesmen on foreign policy.

Both in his criticisms and in his proposals, he has risen above all partisanship.

Senator Dodd has worked unflaggingly for the cause of Western unity; and he has constantly sought for solutions that would make both peace and freedom more secure.

His guiding principle has been the maintenance and extension of freedom.

A Statement by Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt and Mr. John Moslet

"The remarkable range of our committee, politically as well as geographically, is a testimony to the notional prestige of Senator Thomas J. Dodd and to the broad national support that exists for the things Senator Dodd has advocated.

"It is an unusual phenomenon and something to ponder when men adhering to so broad a spectrum of political view-points — Democrats, Republicans and Independents — come together in a non-partisan national committee to support a candidate in a senatorial race. In our committee there are, on canadate in a sandomi tale. The one canadate when the one hand, men like Dean Acheson, Adolf Berle, Leo Cherne, Elmo Roper and Dean Eugene Rostow, who are generally considered members of the liberal community; and, on the other hand, there are men of more conservative viewpoint tike Admiral Radford, General Trudeau, Walter Robertson, Eugene Lyons and Gene Tunney. There are heads of busi-ness corporations, and presidents of trade unions, and college presidents and deans of faculties, and nationally known writers and entertainers."

Tom Dodd has called for unyielding resistance to Communist subversion and aggression.

He has pointed to threats to free world security -in Cuba, in British Guiana, in Ghana, in the surrender of West New Guinea to Sukarno, and elsewhere-long before they were apparent to others.

On issue after issue, subsequent events have demonstrated the correctness of Dodd's warnings and analyses.

In addition to his prominent role in the fight for civil rights, Senator Dodd has done perhaps more than any other member of Congress to expose and combat the violent and brutalizing tendencies in our

He has pointed up the unfortunate impact on our youth of too much crime and too much violence in our national television programs

This is a unique record. It is also a record which makes the re-election of Senator Dodd legitimately a matter of national concern.
